Prompt:
Write a 5-minute stand-up comedy routine in English, but with the style, tone, and timing of classic Tamil comedians Vivek and Santhanam. The jokes should sound like they're coming from a young Tamil techie working in a startup or corporate job, trying to balance IT life, parents' expectations, and modern India.

Blend English and Tamil naturally — especially for punchlines, expressions, and exaggeration (e.g., "Appa irundha ippo enna solruvar theriyuma?" or "Manager oru murai 'let's sync-up' nu sonna, naan Bluetooth on pannitten").

Use sarcastic commentary, expressive language, and cultural realism. Keep the delivery casual, but every now and then hit with a sharp punch like Vivek would, or a fast-talking roast like Santhanam.

Include themes like:

Corporate life & Jargon: Poke fun at phrases like "bandwidth," "circle back," and "leverage synergy." Use a Tamilized metaphor — like comparing it to college viva sessions.

Swiggy/Zomato Addiction: Talk about how the delivery guy is now your best friend, therapist, and maybe even your unofficial roommate.
Startup Meetings: Daily standups where no one stands up, just "mute on, video off, and vibe off."

Indian Parents: "Nee 95 vaa? Sharma ji son 100-a irundha 5 mark avangalukku charity-a kudutharu pola."
Zoom Meeting Struggles: Silent calls, awkward "Can you hear me?" moments, and how "Noted" has become the official national response.
Tech Dating: Love life is like a codebase — "Logic correct irundhalum, output varala."

Structure:
Start with a strong opener that gets the crowd laughing quickly.
Use 2–3 hard-hitting punchlines.
Bring back a callback joke toward the end (Vivek-style "naan sonnen la" moment).
End with a hilarious exaggeration about modern adulting, like: "Life la enakku three people dhaan understanding: ChatGPT, Swiggy delivery boy, and that one Excel sheet that autosaves."

Answer:

🎤 5-Minute Stand-Up Comedy Routine – Tamil Techie Style (Vivek + Santhanam mashup)

(walks in with a fake air of confidence, looks around and sighs dramatically)
"En life-a naan engineer aaka mudinjathae oru startup story dhaan."
Appa: "Software engineer aagitta, super!"
Naan: "Appa, software iruku, engineer missing."

Opener

You know you're in IT when you wake up not to an alarm… but to the sound of Outlook calendar reminder saying:
"Daily Standup in 5 minutes."
And the irony? Nobody stands up.
Just mute on, video off, and soul permanently logged out.

(Fast-talking Santhanam style)
Oru naal I tried keeping my video ON during standup…
Team la oruthan msg pannaan:
"Bro, you okay? You look... alive."
Aama, naan zombie illa bro, just working night shift support."

Corporate Jargon Madness

In our office, people don't talk English. They speak Corporate Sanskrit.
Manager:

"Let's circle back, leverage synergy, and align on low-hanging fruits."

Low-hanging fruit-a?
This isn't a mango tree da, it's a broken Jira board.
Once manager said,

"Do you have bandwidth?"
Naan Bluetooth ON pannitten.
He said,
"Let's sync up."

I put my AirPods in.
Sathiyama, intha IT life ku nee Alexa-a vachaalum resignation kekka maatta.

Swiggy = Soulmate

I've officially spent more time with my Swiggy delivery guy than my own girlfriend.
In fact, girlfriend left, Swiggy guy stayed.
Loyalty level: Idli sambar packet oda varaan.
One day I cried on a call after appraisal.
Next delivery la he gave me chutney extra…
"Anna, stress eating pannunga… naan irukken." 😭❤️
Appa irundha ippo enna solruvar theriyuma?
"Nee MNC la work panra nu sonnala… naan food delivery-a?"

Zoom Meetings – Modern Silent Movies

Zoom call la, whole team mute + no video =
Silent movie screening sponsored by Airtel.
Someone says: "Can you hear me?"
Silence
"Can you hear me now?"
Still silence
Avan pesra sound-a vida mute button click sound romba loud irukku.
Last la, one fellow types in chat:
"Noted."
I swear, "Noted" is the new "Om Shanti."
No one knows what died, but we're acknowledging the death.

Indian Parents & Tech Confusion

Appa:
"Nee 95 mark vaanguna epdi? Sharma ji son 100. Avan 5 mark avangalukku charity-a kuduthara?"
Me:
"Appa… avar AWS certification-um irukaam."
Amma still doesn't know I'm not a "typist."
"Whole day computer la irukka... why no marriage?"
Enakku love life code madhiri irukku.

Logic correct irundhalum, output varala.
Latest girl I matched with said:

> "I'm spiritual."
> Naan:
> "I'm on-call support. Same pain."

Callback + Big Finish

Remember that Swiggy guy?
Last week, he came without food.
I said, "Food illa?"
He said,

> "Naan varaadha day la neenga order panna maatinga… naan vandhen."
> Athu dhan real relationship da.
> Appa still says, "Inime startup panlaam."
> Startup na enakku ippo orae oru idea:
> Online therapy for engineers — subscription la free Maggi + motivational quote:
> "Error illa, just undocumented feature."

Closer

Life la enakku 3 people dhaan understand panra:
ChatGPT, Swiggy delivery boy, and that one Excel sheet that autosaves.
All three:
Supportive, silent, and never judge.
Unlike my manager who says:

> "Let's touch base offline."
> Bro, naan already emotionally offline da!

Naan sonnen la…
Startup life oru rollercoaster ride…
But seatbelt instead of safety… it's just coffee + sarcasm.
Thank you Chennai! Log out pannalaam! 👋💻✨
